Executive Directors Report

May 4th Franklin County Cares is hosting Talk Saves Lives with the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention. This is a community trainign to provide warning signs of suicide and provide resources for preventing suicide. CASA has agreed to provide childcare and pizza will be provided.

The first week in May is Children's Mental Health Week. The Ring for Hope campaign is during this week and on May 5 at 1:30 p.m. the ringing of the bells will occur. This helps bring awareness to children's mental health needs.

Annie has participated in the Children's Funding Institute and there are opportunities for microgrants. The grants will be awarded to provide equity and equality training. Annie was going to research opportunities for the Fall Institute and look into books for therapists to borrow.

Several agencies have struggled with getting fingerprints completed for employees and volunteers to begin services. The YMCA is the only agency currently providing fingerprints and they are only open one day a week for limited hours. Annie and Danielle are going to research how to become approved to submit fingerprints for background checks.

The National Suicide Prevention Hotline is changing over to the phone number 988. They report they are still on track to have 988 as a main mental health hotline. Annie is still waiting on materials from them to distribute. There should be no overlap with Behavioral Health Response since they have rescinded their proposal to serve Franklin County.

A Recruitment and Retention group has been formed to address the high turnover rate and lack of interest in applying for social work and human service positions in Franklin County. Danielle is leading the group as they develop ideas to improve recruitment and retention rates for child and family serving agencies.

Danielle has been working on creating a Youth Advisory Council and Caring Adult Advisory Council. These councils will be used as a feedback loop for local agencies and will advocate for services that are needed in the community.

The Homeless Task Force has partnered with the Scenic Regional Library to hold a pop top food drive. This drive will go through Easter and will help fill the depleted pantry.
